Second Annual “Natural Beauty of Beacon Terrace” Photo Contest Announced

By Billie Lindsay

Many residents have been asking if we are going to have the photo contest again this winter. The answer is Yes!! Mark your calendar for January 21, 2020 at 2:30 pm. ELS/BT management, in conjunction with me, are hosting this event.

I can't tell you how many times I have been out walking around the park and had to stop, get my cell phone out and start taking pictures. I have pictures of sand hill cranes, herons, alligators, flowers, sun rises, sun sets, rainbows, ducks, etc. Does that sound familiar? Well, why don't we celebrate the beauty that is around us each day? This is why we started the “Natural Beauty of Beacon Terrace Photo Contest” last year. We had around 20 photos entered and we expect even more in January.

The contest is open to all park residents. We will have three judges from outside of the park, to decide on the winners. Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners. All those submitting a picture will receive an entry for a drawing of other prizes. This January 21st event is open to everyone and you don't have to have a photo entered to come join the fun. The photos will be on display for all to admire and enjoy. Refreshments will be served.

The rules/guide lines are: Pictures should be either a 5”X7” or 8”X10” and we ask that they are in frames so they display well. These are to be pictures that you have taken here on the grounds of BT of natural beauty such as wildlife, flowers, lakes, sunrises, etc.

The office will start receiving and registering the pictures from the 2nd of December until the deadline on January 17, 2020 (before the office closes)

REPORTS FROM OUR LEADERSHIP

Doug Howison
President
Beacon Terrace Homeowners, Inc

Another month has passed and activities are picking up. The carpets have been cleaned in the clubhouse in preparation for an active season. Don't miss out on any of the fun. Make sure that you read the calendars and bulletin boards for details.

Our friends from the north are returning and the traffic is picking up in the park. Please remember the 15MPH speed limit. Our roads are quite narrow so keep the speed down. Most of us may not be quick to get off of the road when a car or truck is approaching.

We had an incident this month that brings up another problem, street parking. We had an ambulance coming to the aid of a resident, and because of on street parking, had to use lights and siren to get vehicles to move so they could get through. Luckily, they were able to get to the patient and take care of him, but it could have been different. We don't want to see on street parking prohibited on our narrow streets, but we need to keep it to a bare minimum. Please use the overflow parking around the clubhouse if your guests are going to be here for any extended period of time, say more than an hour.

Your BOD and park management have approved a plan to move the Gazebo from the Nature Trail to the open area up front by the swing. Logistics are still being worked on, and we will likely be asking for some assistance from residents, but it should be happening in the near future. In addition to moving the Gazebo we will be transplanting the hibiscus plants that surround it. It will make it much easier and nicer for everyone to enjoy.

As you are likely aware, every year some members of your Board of Directors terms expire. This year, four members terms expire so we are in need of residents to step up and volunteer to be on the board. Dave Sharpe is heading up the nominating committee, so if you are willing to help your HOA, give him a call.

It's the time of year again to pay your dues for your HOA, Activities, and FMO. All of these organizations are important to you and your neighbors. As you likely know, the annual dues are minimal. $15 per household for your HOA ($5 of which goes to the legal fund), $5 per person for Activities, and $25 for FMO.

Our next Home Owners meeting is scheduled for November 12th at 7:00. I'm looking forward to seeing all of you there. Thanks for all that you do to make and keep Beacon Terrace a great place to live.

BT Volunteers Needed for Toys for Tots

By Alice Murray

BT is partnering with the local Toys for Tots this holiday season. We will have a box in which to place the toys in the clubhouse, but, also consider giving a few hours as a volunteer for this very important project. The organization needs volunteers to help in the warehouse as toys are collected and brought in for distribution.

I have volunteer information and will post it on the bulletin boards. Thanks to all of you for continuing to help give a child a good Christmas.

Call me at 863-687-9608 if you have questions or want to volunteer with

Heaven's Angel Band

As the dampness closes in, with the darkness of the night
And I enter my abode, seeking peacefulness and flight
From all the untold pressures that assail us every day
I close the door, shut out the world, & keep the wolves at bay
I fix myself a glass of tea and settle in my chair
I close my eyes to ponder, seeking music in the air
My mind I clear of every thought, so I can truly hear
The sweet refrains of hymns I've known, forever lingering there
"How Great Thou Art", "Peace Be Still", "The Storm That's passing by"
Such comfort that they bring to me, on them I can rely
So when you've reached your limit of the pressures put on you
Please set aside a moment, to do the things I do
And if you really listen, midst the silence in the room
You'll hear the angels singing, and know they're telling you
That any time you need a song, they're always right at hand
You only need to tune on in to Heavens Angel Band

Read It Forward: The Favorite Uncle Remus

While sifting through some boxes of accumulated items, I came across a beloved childhood book of mine, The Favorite Uncle Remus by Joel Chandler Harris. Some of you might remember the tales that involve the antics of Brer ("Brother") Rabbit, Brer Bear, Brer Fox and the use of an old Southern Black dialect. Perhaps you knew the Walt Disney version which is a bit easier to read.

Harris wrote down the legends that he had heard all of his life from the "Negroes" (as he called the field hands) he knew while growing up on a Georgia cotton plantation. We can credit him with preserving the dialect as well as the tales.

My favorites are "The Laughing Place" and "The Wonderful Tar Baby" where the main characters, as always, try to outsmart each other. I won't tell you more than that because I invite you to check out the short stories from the local library (may be in the children's section).

I also invite you to revisit a favorite children's or teen book. The Diary of Ann Frank? Classic fairy tales? The stories of Christopher Robin and Winnie the Pooh? The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe?

Also, with the holidays on our doorstep, how about stories reflecting Christmas, Hanukah, or Kwanza? These tales outshine television any night.

So reminisce and go on a favorite adventure again! Anne Seifert

Bridge

Mike Lowery
Lot 90

It has come to my attention that there is a false rumor going around Beacon Terrace concerning the weekly bridge game.

The rumor is that talking is not allowed while playing bridge on Monday afternoons. I would like to put an end to this false and misleading rumor.

The game of bridge that is played here is meant to be a friendly social gathering of players. We do not disallow talking while we play but rather speak freely between hands.

Having hopefully put an end to this false rumor I would encourage any all bridge players or people interested in learning the game of bridge to contact me with any questions you may have.

Mike Lowery Lot 90 688-6526; If no answer, please leave a message.

MEET YOUR NEIGHBORS:

Kern & Billie Lindsay, High School Sweethearts

By Chuck Snavelly, Beacon Editor

On the corner of Jasmine and Periwinkle in Lot 194 you will find the delightful home of Kern and Billie Lindsay.

Kern and Billie migrated here from Boonville, in southern Indiana in 2011. They rented for three months that first year and, in 2012 they bought their home. They were snowbirds first but, in 2014, they became full-time residents.

The Lindsays have been married for 50 years after starting out as high school sweethearts. They have two daughters, one in Ohio and one in Homestead, Florida. Homestead is also the home of their only grandson.

Billie has been active in assisting the residents, first as the Welcome person and more recently heading up Care and Concern. She is also active in Line Dancing. Kern is a Monday morning shuffler and he and Billie both enjoy Mexican Train.

When I asked what they liked to do they both said Eating Out! They can often be found at the Methodist church for the Wednesday night dinner.

With their dog, Sammy, a Yorkipoo that they inherited from Dale and Betty Stevens they are enjoying life and Beacon Terrace.

Oh, by the way, here's some trivia for you. Kern was actually delivered by a stork!

OK, it was Dr. Stork but still...

Corn Hole Returns

By Don Kohnke

Corn Hole is returning Wednesday, November 6th at 1pm at the Clubhouse.

As we saw earlier this year, Corn Hole can be played by anyone no matter your age or any physical challenges you may have. It's a perfect activity for players of any age and a great way to get some exercise and socialize.

We typically play the games inside, but playing outside on those "cooler" days is always an option since we have the equipment to play either inside or outside. A little breeze sure makes the game more interesting.

Thanks again for considering joining in the fun.

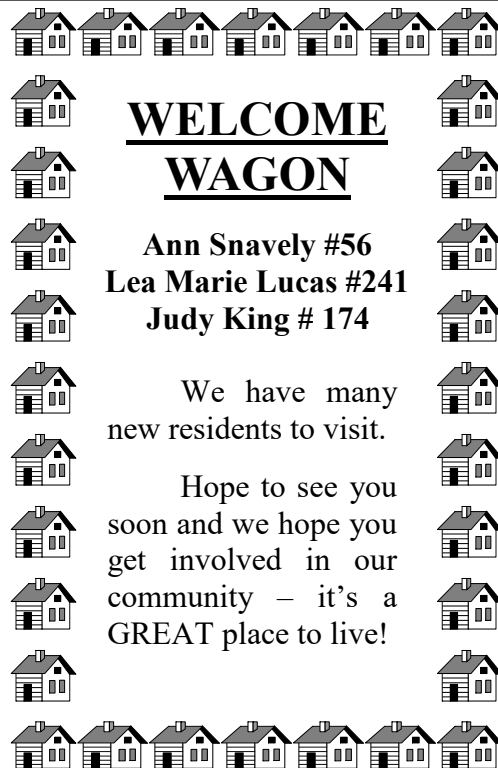

Please feel free to watch (or join) the group at any time.

Ann Snavelly #56
Lea Marie Lucas #241
Judy King # 174

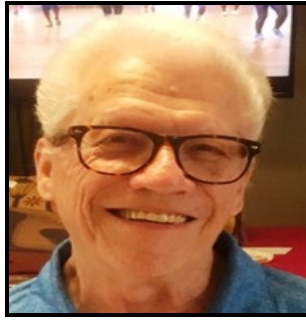

We have many new residents to visit.

Hope to see you soon and we hope you get involved in our community – it's a GREAT place to live!

IRWIN PONDER:

Computers and the Retiree/ Senior Citizen

I recently replaced my computer as my Toshiba had seen its better days although as is usual of our generation – I haven't had the heart to part with it so there it sits on a shelf in my office.

Now, for most people, I would imagine they do not have any problems or difficulty when securing a replacement computer. But for those of us that can get lost just going to the gas station around the block (Dolly's thoughts about my directional ability), parting with a computer and acquiring another one to replace it can be a heart wrenching process.

Some individuals have even gone as far as to say that getting a new computer is similar to getting a new wife.

How so? Their thought process is that, in their opinion, seeing how many bells and whistles are now contained within a new computer – it might be easier to get used to a new wife as opposed to getting used to a new computer. But believe me – never in our entire married life – have we had as many problems and complications that one endures when getting a new computer. Marriage is a “cake walk” compared to replacing a computer. And – “No” – I have no intentions of ever ever getting a new wife. Dolly's stuck with me.

So what is it with we humans and our connection to our computers? When you get right down to it, over time, you and your computer build a sort of bond with each other. One could even say that you get your computer to do things the way you want them done. You turn on the computer and expect it to operate the way it did at the store prior to leaving the store. You want to be able to get to the programs that were installed to assist you in whatever endeavor you purchased the computer for in the first place, and I might add, get to those programs without any great difficulty.

But does this happen? No! You turn on the computer and immediately your mind gets all fuzzy. Nothing you want to access is there or if it is, it isn't where it was on your old reliable computer. Most of us have various programs we consider our favorites and we use them every day for whatever reasons, be they work or play. But are they present when you first turn on your new ‘best friend’? No! None of the – what are they called – oh, that's right, icons are where they used to be.

Now, I suppose that there are many a folk that have no clue or understanding why this bothers us older folk. These people understand computers much better than we do. They do not understand that those of us that do not have a Master's Degree in Computer Science or Computer Engineering, cannot understand why stuff – my easy way of referring to icons, programs, and the like – disappeared or isn't where it was on the old computer.

I mean, come on, we know, love, and have depended upon them for so long and well, with theses icons, programs, and the like – not being there, it is a just a teensy- weensy bit upsetting. When you get right down to it – it appears as though everything I was used to seeing on my old computer, got up and went. Where? Who knows? The sad thing about this picture is that I can't find them! Those people that understand computers look at us ‘dummies’ and tell us. “What's the problem?” Supposedly, the technician at the computer store re-installed everything you had on your old computer onto the new computer. It is just a matter of my finding where they are on my computer. As usual, it will be trial and error for me, but eventually, I should find everything.

Ah, for the good old days. Years ago, it was a matter of installing the computer discs (those little round shiny silver things that have writing on one side called a label and pretty shiny rings or grooves on the other side), into the computer. They tell us the computer will do the rest. Good idea, right! But, guess what – this new computer has five openings, two on one side and three on the other plus two small holes, one on each side, and none of them are large enough to accept any round shiny thingamabobs.

Computers and the Retiree/Senior Citizen

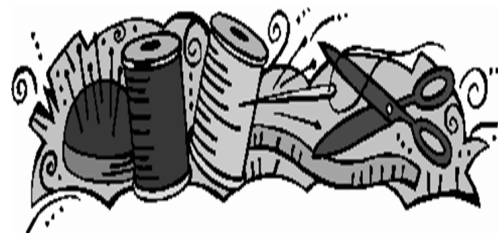

I do know about such round shiny discs from the past and if memory serves me correctly – once utilized and removed from the computer – I was to put them in a safe place so that I could use them if a problem ever occurred. Good thing I bought a new computer because “Guess what?”, I put them in such a safe place, I no longer know where they are. So why would I want to go through that experience again?

Which brings me to yet another situation involving computers and storing things. One has to understand what my office looks like. While some people save and collect things like cigarette lighter collections, tea pots, and the like, I have this thing about collecting paper. I have books, papers, notes, and the like scattered throughout the room I call my office. I say ‘call my office’ because should we get guests, it serves as a guest bedroom and when not being used as an office and/or guest room, serves as a storage facility as well. While not as bad as I make it sound, I doubt seriously that I could add another book to any of the five bookshelves that take up space in my office. And forget about adding yet another piece of paper to my desk area – should one do that I am sure the desk would groan and say: “Really, you really need one more piece of paper to rest on my weary back?”

Point is, that were this new computer to have a ‘slot’ to accept a disc, I would have no place to store the disc once removed from the computer after it did its thing. Truth be told though – CD discs are out – they went the way of eight-track players. Nowadays, when you buy a new computer, the operating system installed on your computer is backed up by what they call a Flash Drive – assuming you have enough funds after paying for your computer to purchase one. And what do they tell you to do with this little Flash Drive thingamabob? You got it! Put it in a safe place. Why? Because should you have a problem with your computer after you get home and quite possibly lose all the data they just installed..... you got it..... by installing this Flash Drive thingamabob into your computer, you can get it all back! Or can you?

Oh great, now I have two problems....(1) I cannot find the icons so that I know where I want to go and what I want to do now that the computer is turned on and (2) I must put that Flash Drive thingamabob in a safe place somewhere in my office.

Good luck with that!

BINGO

Don Kohnke Lot 13

November is our "Welcome Back" month when many of our seasonal friends and neighbors return and Bingo session attendance increases.

Bingo has remained popular with many of our neighbors and others from local communities enjoying themselves weekly throughout the summer months. Weekly attendance has already begun to rise with nearly 40 people playing a couple of weeks ago, so come early to get the best seats.

Each session now contains an Odd/Even Jackpot replacing speed bingo, which provides a new hefty jackpot prize creating a lot of excitement and interest. Everyone has a great time, so gather your friends and join us.

I would sincerely like to thank and recognize those who have volunteered to help when they can throughout the summer. They include Walt Swink, Dave Bradley, Sandy Lander, Karen Jersey, Wilma Norrix, Tim DeFrancisco and Darlene Alvord.

Bingo is played every Monday evening in the Community Center. Bingo cards are available for purchase from 5:00pm to 6:15pm with games starting at 6:30. The games typically last until about 9 pm. Ice cream (Drumsticks, Klondike Bars, etc.) is offered for donation during the intermission.

We always seem to have cookies, cakes, candies, and snacks provided by the players available every night, too. Please feel free to bring your own goodies and refreshments of your choice and enjoy the evening.

With many games and multiple jackpots, you could be a big winner!

See you there!

HAND AND FOOT

The card game, Hand and Foot, is played on Sunday and Thursday afternoons. If you don't know how to play, we will be glad to teach you. If you've played before and just want something to do, please join us.

SHUFFLEBOARD

How to Avoid Identity Theft—From the Lakeland Police Department

Identity theft can make it hard for you to get credit, a job, a place to live, or utilities. But you can reduce your risk of being hurt by identity theft.

How can I protect my identity?

Protect your personal information. That helps you protect your identity. Here are some things you can do:

At home

- keep your financial records, Social Security and Medicare cards in a safe place
- shred papers that have your personal or medical information
- take mail out of your mailbox as soon as you can

As you do business

- only give your Social Security number if you must. Ask if you can use another kind of identification
- do not give your personal information to someone who calls you or emails you

On the computer

- use passwords that are not easy to guess. Use numbers and symbols when you can
- do not respond to emails or other messages that ask for personal information
- do not put personal information on a computer in a public place, like the library

How will I know if someone steals my identity?

Read your bills and account statements. Watch for:

- things you did not buy
- withdrawals you did not make
- a change of your address that you did not expect
- bills that stop coming

Look at medical statements. You might see charges you do not recognize. That might mean someone stole your identity.

Get your credit report. You get one free credit report every year from each credit reporting company. To order:

Call Annual Credit Report at 1-877-322-8228. Answer questions from a recorded system. You have to give your address, Social Security number, and birth date. Choose to only show the last four numbers of your Social Security number. It is safer than showing the full number on your report. Choose which credit reporting company you want a report from. (You get one report free from each company every year.) The company mails your report to you. It should arrive two to three weeks after you call.

Read your credit report carefully. Look for mistakes or accounts you do not recognize. This could mean someone stole your identity.

Free Directory Service for Cells

Cell phone companies are charging us $1.00 to $1.75 or more for 411 information calls when they don't have to. Most of us do not carry a telephone directory in our vehicle, which makes this situation even more of a problem.

When you need to use the 411 information option, simply dial: (800) FREE411, or (800) 373-3411 without incurring any charge at all. Program this into your cell phone now.

Bowling will be $11.00 again this year.

Also please, please let me know if you are not bowling this year or if someone wants to bowl. It's only for 3 months and it is a lot of fun!

Thanks so much, Carol

A NOTE FROM THE OFFICE

Please do not put food out in your yards to feed the wild life. This encourages animals to hang around your (or your neighbor's) yard hunting for food.

There are problems keeping these animals from imposing damages around or underneath

CANS FOR THE CURE

Doug & Sandy Howison Lot 152

Just a reminder to everyone that we are continuing to pick up aluminum cans every Monday evening. If it's pouring down rain on Monday, we will pick up first thing in the morning on Tuesday.

Thanks to everyone still saving the cans for us. We really appreciate it.
